Paul, Pam, Nikki & Laura

June 3, 1987

Warm greetings from the Refiors! It is a perfect spring morning here. May was a wonderful month in many ways. Brian Weiss began his work here at the law office. He and Joy were married and have now returned from their honeymoon and are getting settled here in Warsaw. Joy has found work teaching piano lessons. Brian is working at the office in the mornings and is studying for the bar exam in the afternoons.

Nikki finished the eleventh grade and the very next day she departed from O'Hara International Airport for California. Nikki is now visiting her grandparents, E. J. and Shirley Petro who live in Brea which is a suburb of Los Angeles. When Nikki called last night she said that they had gone to Knotsberry Farm, the Queen Mary ship, the Spruce Goose, shopping, and that they will also be going to Catalina and Disneyland before Nikki flies home this coming Sunday. I imagine she will want to rest after her vacation. Nikki is having a marvelous time. Laura is still in school. She thinks it is not quite fair for all of the public schools to be on vacation while Warsaw Christian School continues to be in session. However, tomorrow will be her last day of school and she will be able to start her vacation as well. Both Nikki and Laura will be working at the law office this summer. Nikki will be working a regular schedule and Laura will be doing some part-time work.

A crew of workers is right now in front of the law office tearing out the old sidewalk to install some new cement. It sure seems that something is always needing attention. The big development at our house is the garden. We have a thirty foot by forty foot garden. We put up a rabbit fence around it and Pam has really taken on the role of a farmer.

We had hoped to take a family vacation to Washington, D.C. and Norfolk, Virginia this summer, but we have decided that it is impossible this year. With the transition of bringing Brian Weiss on board and getting things settled and so forth we decided that instead of a longer vacation this year, I would try to take some Fridays and Saturdays off from work for some long weekends. Perhaps we can go camping. We would like to visit some of the beautiful Indiana State Parks for example.

Sincerely,

Paul D. Refior

P.S. Another big event last month was day Nikki got her braces off! And I shared report that "Honey" - a puppy from the Warsaw Dog Pound - joined the family and is precious.
